"Angel Eyes"

He walked the Earth above the ground. His smile as wide as Painted skies, blue skies,
His blue skies.
And all the creatures heard the sound, the night this child like angel learned to fly.
In blue skies.
All I ask is why, little angels have to fly, stars they hide
his angel eyes.
Throw my hands up to the sky, And I miss his angel
eyes, he sings to me don't cry.
Since heaven called his name, nothing will be the same
as us together,
Together.
They say that legends never die, Then so my friends
this angel lives forever, Forever.
All I ask is why, little angels have to fly. Stars they hide
his angel eyes.
Throw my hands up to the sky, and I miss his angel
eyes, But he sings to me don't cry.
I sing. I scream. I need to hear a new sound. Star is fallen, I think I hear him calling.
Since the day I heard the news, My soul is melting cause my heart is burning, Burning.
He was just a child, With the sun inside his smile,
Innocence skies angels fly.
See an angel in the sky, and I miss his angel eyes.
Sings to me don't cry.
He was just a child, with the sun inside his smile,
Innocence skies angels fly.
An angel in the sky, I miss his angel eyes, He sings to me don't cry
