You can find that it's not real
If you find it you'll know why
The days have past beyond your mind
It's not possible yet never really try
Save it while you have the chance
Don't waste too much time at once
When you find it I'll be there
I've made my move and you'll give up again

Look around this horrid place
Make your steps at your own pace
Don't forget that it's not real
You've taken a toll and you'll give up again

I'll show you the world like no other
I'll show you the place under cover
I'll show you the world like no other
I'll show you the place I've given up again
I've given up again
I've given up again
I've given up again
Again...
Again...

I've seen all that I'd want to see
Find your way or come with me
Don't make mistakes I made back then
I'm out of line I've given up again
