I will never forget
From dawn until sunset
When light fills the sky

When the brightness retreats
I will stand on my feet
Gaze at the open night

When you pass me by
I always fail when I try
I just don't understand why

Through the blinding light
Everything's black and white
No one could ever know I
Never meant to say good-bye

I welcome the northern lights
I regret the blameless fights
I strive for a shameless life

And even when I cry
It all seems like a lie
I just don't understand why

When you pass me by
I always fail when I try
I just don't understand why

Through the blinding light
Everything's black and white
No one could ever know I
Never meant to say good-bye

Take my hand
Walk with me to the end
Stay by my side
We'll lead the way to the end
