No-one can ever see
What is beyond the sky
Through darkness and grey clouds
I can see with my eye

I know exactly that
Out there in the skies
The remains of lives
You will soon realize

Departure of souls is inevitable
Do you see what we're made of
Lack of self-confidence
And unable to trust and secure

Flashing bright through the clouds
Are tossed memories gone
The ashes of angels
Disperse as mists of light

Losing heart is the wrong path
Leave everything behind
The seraphs from the past
Will stab you with their spears
