Moonlit skies light up the night
Feelings are placed piece by piece
Sunsets striking its last might
You make my life shine so bright

I never thought my state of mind
Would allow such happiness
I thought my heart appeared alone
Only to die by the night

You came along and took my hand
Waterfalls of love flow through
Pouring thoughts and happiness
My soul has become renewed

How is it that I deserve
You waiting there in the cold
You have made me feel special
My love retained now has told
