I seem to pack my mind
With useless information
Until it drags me down
You seem to fill the time
With uselesss occupations
Until it drags you down
I've had my share
Of broken promise dreaming
Until it dragged me down
Why should I wait
Another lonely lifetime
Until it drags you down

I'm more and more amazed by the world that I see I'm quite convinced though that this is all happening to me

Many a time I've tried concealing
Looking the other way
Many a time I've tried believing
Living from day to day
Many a time I've lied deceiving
Many a time

Why must we wait until a revolution
Before we drag it down
It's not too late to resolve the old solution
And then we'll drag it down

I'm more and more amazed by the world that I see I'm quite convinced though that this is all happening to
me

Many a time I've tried concealing
Looking the other way
Many a time I've tried believing
Living from day to day
Many a time I've lied deceiving
Many a time

I'm more and more amazed by the world that I see I'm quite concerned though that this is all happening to

me

Many a time I've tried
Many a time I've tried
Many a time I've tried
Many a time I've tried
Many a time I've tried
Many a time I've tried
