i believe in you just the way you do in me we have come so far just to give it all up we have come across a plain to hold on so tight

we are across the wall of death
just hold on tight
i believe that i love you (yeah)
across the wall of death
we have each other and that's all we need nothing more

i know about the past and it doesn't matter anymore we have one another but thats not enough for you (oh) love is like a cloud it floats away with time our love will always remain in my heart

i believe that i love you
across the wall of death

the future is ahead we have so much to look forward to dont let go now hold me tight and keep me warm i want you like you want me i think that i hate this place but i have you we are together and that's all we need

(ohhhh!!) just across the wall of death
