"I'm Dead"

No way out. I've accepted my own destiny.
In the end I've found life is making your own history. I live and always will be miles you're Miles away and I want you to write me and tell me I'm dead.
Well I know it's just the same frustration this limitation.
Well I live this every single day
Now I found out I'm just jealous and i waste my time

No way out. I gave the very best of me.
Cause in the end I've found you lose when you give everything

I am and always will be miles you're miles away
I want you to write me and tell me I'm dead
I know it's just the same frustration this limitation.
Wel I live this every single day
Now I found out I'm just jealous and I waste my time
