Really, feeling the pain, that you kindly gave,
Suddenly, I notice your smile, wondering if I'll break,

And every day is different
Every emotion I've felt
I stand alone inside torment

Cruelly administer pain, it's part of the game
Flay me to punish me, you attempt to tame

And every day is different
Every emotion I've felt
I stand alone inside torment

So this is the world devised by you?
Unhinged conscience, is there sanity in you?

Question, I must know why I have your blame
Freedom, I seek above all, and to see you fail

And every day is different
Every emotion I've felt
I stand alone inside torment
And every day is different
Every emotion I've felt
I stand alone inside torment
