I would bend my knees and pray
I'm waiting for guidance night and day
I look to the stars to find a way to say I love you

If the angels let me try
For you I would climb the mountains high
And sing to the heaven in your eyes to say I love you

People used to call me solitaire
Wandering about without a care
Thought I knew what life could give
I walked the end of the line

I have been to places never known
Proud to make the journey on my own
Still I always dream to live the day you give me a sign

I would bend my knees and pray
I'm waiting for guidance night and day
I look to the stars to find a way to say I love you

If the angels let me try
For you I would climb the mountains high
And sing to the heaven in your eyes to say I love you

Every day a life with you to share
Every night with someone being there
Do you share my dream to live the day I give you the sign

I would bend my knees and pray
I'm waiting for guidance night and day
I look to the stars to find a way to say I love you

If the angels let me try
For you I would climb the mountains high
And sing to the heaven in your eyes to say I love you

I would bend my knees and pray
I'm waiting for guidance night and day
I look to the stars to find a way to say I love you

I would bend my knees and pray
I'm waiting for guidance night and day
I look to the stars to find a way to say I love you

If the angels let me try
For you I would climb the mountains high
And sing to the heaven in your eyes to say I love you

(I would bend my knees and pray)
(I'm waiting for guidance night and day)
(I look to the stars to find a way) To say I love you

If the angels let me try (If the angels let me try)
For you I would climb the mountains high (Climb the mountains high)
And sing to the heaven in your eyes to say I love you

(And sing to the heaven in your eyes to say I love you)
