I know not you love me like you never imagined and you're happy you 've told me many times that you find it hard to see me like this once in while you know , to me you are important and I'm very happy i ve told you many times and i know i came into your life a little late it hurts and is difficult to see you like this once in a while

When we first started we knew well that it this wasnt eternal but we never imagined thas this love was growing I can not give more than I have given and you deserve more than what i have given I can not stop you wish you good luck

remember me forever and let me tell you it was worth it having to met you That it will be impossible to forget you I wish you good luck i hope you soon fall in love with someone That to thwe world can love you it was Worth every moment That our history is unique although i would not want to this for it to end It is impossible, our lives, not tie in I feel a little angry because I do not want to let you go because I am happy with you
