So lonely, so scared, the darkness confused your mind you never hoped, you never trusted because they hurt you so.

in times like these our lives are at war, but self-esteem isn't dead yet and I am still alive

They just want to break you, they just want to hurt you

Numbness is taking over our lives and their only way to survive is to die inside.

But I will not die inside, I won't cry faith, hope and love is the things that save lives

Everybody seems to know, what people feel inside but it's just a lie to say that all you can do is cry inside

The foundation of true confidence is the truth
