"Dear Lisa"

So lonely, so scared, the darkness confused your mind.

You never hoped, you never trusted because they hurt
you so.

In times like this our lives are at war,

But self-esteem isn't dead yet and I am still alive

They just want to break you

They just want to hurt you

Numbness is taking over our lives, their only way to survive

Is to die inside. But I will not die inside, I won't cry

Faith hope and love is the things that save lives.

Everybody seems to know, what people feel inside

But it's just a lie to say that all you can do is cry inside.

The foundation of true confidence is the truth.
