Try to find myself seems a hopeless case
I'd rather just give in to all there is to taste
Seems like all the done has been written down in ink
That can never be erased
What e did I know ye wish ye didn't do
Cause all the wrong ye did it tends to stick with you
Just regret never change nothing yet
Ye can't repay that debt until ye cange ye dutty step
I know my mind is set changing wrong to righ
Though I tried my best it leaves me sleepless nights
But I know it's real, what I do is real
I can't help it's real no I can't help it's real Though It fills me with regret 'n makes me wish we never met
'N I can somehow cange my bet, maybe it's best that I forget
Try to find my way back home soon Lately I've been thinking hard, wish I acted from the heart
Played another part, give a fresh start
But that would be surreal, that Can not be real
The wrong end of the deal, that would be unreal
My heart would never agree, not to be here if it wasn't me
Another thinking came for free, except my wrongs
That part of me, was forgotten history
