An immense suffering
Lips charred from hypocrisy
It passes under your eyes
Promises broken
As the bridges you've burned immolate the friendship
My wish is to forgive
Yet my rage wants to kill
Take what you give
None of this makes sense
None of this makes sense
All I see is red

Darkened by hatred
Plagued by fear
Deafened by anger
And stone-hearted will

Neverending pain, neverending conflict
Destroys trust

Promises broken
As the bridges you've burned immolate the friendship
Clamoring again to usurp the throne
Madness on display
I want you to die
I want you to die the way I have

Through truth
Most painful and beautiful
The truth that gives us the answers
That we seek to hide from
Let all men be liars
Let God's word be true

Darkened by hatred
Plagued by fear
Deafened by anger
And stone-hearted will
