He said
"Anyone who comes to me shall not perish
But have everlasting life."
He said "anyone who invites me in
I will come in and dine"
"And anyone who does what I command abides in me
and I in him
But alone the branches will fade and wither
And be cast into eternal flames"
Independence
How does it feel now on your own?
Independence
Does your rebellion keep you warm?
Independence
Your self-reliance make you strong?
Independence
How does it feel now on your own?

The doors to the banquet hall are closing...
