What if I ruled the world?
... Such a callous position.
There would not be scars on your heart
For leaving the entire world.

What if I ruled the world?
... Such a callous position.
There would not be scars on your heart
For leaving the entire world.

Where's my heaven?
We're all going to burn in hell.
I killed an angel.
She fell from the sky like Jesus Christ.
There's no salvation from the wounds we have.
Reprimanded for actually having a spine.

What if I ruled the world?
... Such a callous position.
There would not be scars on your heart
For leaving the entire world.

Won't come back for you.
Once it grows it starts to burn.
You're a grown man.
After this there's nothing else.
Passion steals us.
Once you fall your world's a fake.
I sing out for you.
Sing it loud and sing it proud.

The road is moving faster than we are.
The stars are fading.
Let's light the sky again tonight.
Their skepticism are bullets in my gun.
But no, gravity always pulls me back to earth.

What if I ruled the world?
... Such a callous position.
There would not be scars on your heart
For leaving the entire world.

One-by-one we will form into what we can't control.
You got me all figured out.
Don't laugh so hard.
You got me all figured out.
Don't laugh so hard.
You got me all figured out.
Don't laugh so hard.
You got me all figured out.
Don't laugh so hard.
