Visit "Dying To Live" on MotoLyrics.com

a thousand questions strap a leash around your neck restricting your every move assuring you no regrets

if I can't be me
release myself I would choose not to be

im just dying to live
were all just dying to live I see reason why

what do you think dedication to the world that they spoke wich took all and never gave you

anything but

hope

you reject my hand think you earned some pride
think you understand just when time is right

passion supreme
as we collide the moment
you ever stop to ride
