

Invoker

"Through The Nether To The Sun"

Visit "Through The Nether To The Sun" on MotoLyrics.com

Inside these walls of sleep I rest for ages now I must have failed my quest perpetual roads I travelled circulated in the sphere of evermore too many sights I saw the wasteland I inhaled of nevermore in rain or fire I flew on through blackened skies how could I stop this lonely journey now it has only just begun someday I know I'll meet, the company I seek to join the last and only one

through the nether to the sun

something appears, my view is paralyzed friend or foe I know I need them pacified this obstacle before me I must pass come too far now, I can't go back the infirmity of it just make me laugh so undisturbed I practiced my trespass inside these walls of sleep eternal isolation manifests I fear the next trespass and God my body screams for rest

Visit Invoker page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.