In the wake of heaven,
Be aware we tread on sacred ground,
If you fall, crawl back to the path
Where rapture can be found

Assent to your inward grace
Evoke serenity in your heart
Absolve all those who try to harm
Forgive as they depart

Return to spirit
Embrace divinity within

Beware of minions bearing glittering gifts
Where vultures prey on the lost
Blinded by darkness, hidden under rocks,
With bright black hearts of false

Evade the zealotists and sycophants
Who basely praise the darkness in your name
Shadows will fall beneath a spectrum of light,
When the blessed congregate

When the dawn breaks without you
The will of life shall resonate
Scattered ashes blown upon the silent earth
Eternal bliss awaits

Return to spirit
The path of rapture can be found

Heaven is here and now
