Stop and stall
like a combustion engine malfunctioning, faulty machine the TV screen burns like a laser puts holes through the retinas of dreams forward slash, a trio of w's dressed up in their polka-dot coms friends won't last, but i've got it beat now i back them up on CD Rom the words that you gave me are sweet and they're savory

you don't stand to gain much from this remember these eyes they march with such innocence now lost in the anchorman's lies if loneliness kills, well you'll never notice 'cause loneliness won't be televised (the subtitles read...)

so close
