Don't want to lead a revolution
Let another go ahead don't have a need for elocution
No desire to raise the dead
You can't avoid the circulation
Amend the circumstance don't want to lose the combination Still want to hold it in my hands can't see around this tunnel vision

From inside of what Ive found
When I was wracked with indecision
When my hide was hunted down
Under a moon of innovation
A many-splendoured thing
I need the company Im keeping
And I feed the hunger

Something happened inside and I can't explain it
Im in a critical way
When I didn't believe it I couldnt see
Now I live a life in a day

All at once she is gone again when I turn back Cracking up, more than I can take
Make it come right

And Im dead on my feet, hesitating and down
In a dangerous mood where I shouldn't remain
Straighter than a narrow never-ending emotional ride (Raining from the harder sky)
Waiting for survival, are there no words left to right?
don't want them anymore

And now something I couldnt hide has happened inside
And taken the meaning away
When I didn't give in I couldnt begin
Now I live a life in a day
Something happened inside and I can't explain it
Im in a critical way
When I didn't believe it I couldnt see
Now I live a primitive life in a day
