Sometimes you feel that you can't take anymore there is no one to turn to And theres no answer when you know at the door Seems everybody has left you

A strange feeling in the air tonight like the void that you might feel inside You try hard to find the reason
And you keep asking why

Dont give up be strong sing aloud your song
It doesnt matter if you feel like crying
Dont you dare refrain keep on trying again
A time will come when you will win the game
If you hold on tight you wont lose the fight hold on fast to dreams they will take you high way up to the sky

Theres no use to keep on asking why trying to find the reason dont look back just keep on aiming high no matter what time or season

You may feel like youre a loser sometimes Dont lose hope you will find the way
After the rain you'll see the rainbow Theres a bright new day

Dont give up be strong sing aloud your song
It doesnt matter if you feel like crying
Dont you dare refrain keep on trying again
A time will come when you will win the game
If you hold on tight you wont lose the fight
hold on fast to dreams they will take you high way up to the sky
