You wished on a star today
You made them fall right into their place
You wanna dance and you wanna sing
You would give up everything
Just to hear your story told
Just to see your life unfold

Doubt makes it hard for you
To see that way

You and I, we're running freely
Never knowing, never nearly
Hanging around until I find you there
So unaware too
Don't let them take the better part of you

Time is on your side so am I too
I know the reasons
You have found yourself believing
So put your past behind
Let love be your guide

'Cause doubt makes it hard for you
To see that way

'Cause you and I, we're running freely

Never know and never nearly
I'm hanging around until I find you there
So unaware too
Don't let them take the better part of you

The better part of you
Better part of you
Don't let them take that away

Doubt makes it hard for you
To see that way

'Cause you and I, we're running freely
We'll never know and never nearly
I'm hanging around until I see you there

So unaware too
Don't let them take the better part of you

Don't let them take, wipe your tears away
Don't let them take, don't let them take
Don't let them take it all away
Don't let them take that from you
The better part of you, the better part of you
