Searching for truth to hold onto
You're looking for a reason
So much confusion, the world is crying out
It's time for me to speak aloud
I will never silent, can never tamed
I will always speak Your name

You invade my soul
Lord take control
I'm coming back, coming back too

You invade my soul
Lord take control
I'm coming back, coming back too

Throw away your sadness and let it go

Let the oil of gladness take control
Give Him your burdens, cast your cares
He died for you, He'll always be there

You invade my soul
Lord take control
I'm coming back, coming back too

You, your always there
I remember you, you remember me
I live in You

Holy are you, worthy are you
You're worthy of the praise I bring to You
I lift my voice to worship You
Then you come, then you come
