Here it comes again,
It's going to happen to me
Here it comes,
I should have learned to duck
She's going to say,
She's going away
And I will have to live without her and survive
Here it comes,
It looks just like the last wave I drowned in
Here it comes,
And I'm so far from shore
She's going to go,
And take her trinkets
And I will have to live without her and survive
Here it comes again,
The night is going to fall
Here it comes,
She's going to say good-bye
She's going to go,
And leave only me
And I will have to live without her and survive.
