Sitting home alone, thinkin about my past Wonderin how I made it, and how long it's gonna last Success has come to lots of them, and failures always there
Time, time waits for no one and I wish, how I wish someone would care

Some folks think you're happy when you wear your smile
What about your tribulations, and all, all of your trials
Smiles, smiles hide a lots a things
The good, the bad, the hurt, all of this goes too
And I wish, how I wish, how I wish someone would care
I wish someone would care
Don't you think someone should care?
Ah don't you think someone should care?
Sit down and think about yourself
Ah don't you think someone should care?
MMMM don't you think someone should care?
Ahh don't you think someone should care?
