Breaking down the Earth
No chance for rebirth Everyone will die even you and I

I won't be a slave who's digging his own grave like all the others Don't turn your back on your brothers

Now it's too late to change our fate
Someday the rain
will wash away the pain

Time is running out
and there's no return
We are the dying race
and we will burn
Every spirit will be gone
and mankind will fall Cause this is the end of it all

We all love and hate destroy and create
The future is well-known Dust will turn to stone Madness and insanity Prisoners without a key Trapped here in Paradise
But no one ever realizes

Now it's too late
to change our fate
Someday the rain

and there's no return
and we will burn

and mankind will fall
Cause this is the end of it all

and there's no return
and we will burn
Cause this is the end of it all
