Curse the ages, time spent on this earth

All False hopes, since the day of my birth

Curse the reasons, what should and shouldn't be

And all that is divine, the one who's cursed is me

Stubborn, like a mountain side

In you, I won't confide

Knock down, merits you earn

Cast out, lazy will to learn

Imprisoned, like brain to skull

Implode, no self control

Never see, pitfalls under feet

Won't accept, the goodness cursed on thee

Curse the patterns, showing cause for alarm

And the souls, that have always done me harm

Curse conditions, that molded minds this way

The cries and screams, unheard for another day

Why search for things untrue

Only one cursed is wretched you

Cursing others, and placing blame

You're the one, who lives in shame

Won't Stand up, and get in line

Narrow Minded for the asinine

Your self army, is only one strong

Lonely life, for you is too long

Stubborn, like a mountain side

In you, I won't confide

Knock down, merits you earn

Cast out, lazy will to learn...

[Lead]

Imprisoned, like brain to skull

Implode, no self control

Never see, pitfalls under feet

Won't accept, the goodness cursed on thee...
