"The Liar"

The dreams have all come home
The emotion is shared by one
The draft if all I feel
But the skin is what I see

Im destined for loneliness
There'll be no change
Where is the sunshine
Im involved in pain

My friend came for some fun
We drank together but were alone
His eyes were focused on her shine
While I tried to dissect her mind

He was caught in her spell
The shakes and lumps moved him
Immune to all her charms
Already sinned
Returned to the lair
Never living for my share
They know a wretched soul
And work hard for the dough
Future is written here
Love will never be
Souls left behind
Never able to please
