When you try you lose I'll always win in the end
From the ground you look up it's my face again
You can't fight I'll break you down again and then
Kick you in the face that's your lesson learned
When you try you lose I'll always win in the end
From the ground you look up it's my face again
On the edge with a reason
Your treason is making me sick
No shame no blame, your story's always the same
innocense on the surface
There's no excuse for the abuse that I've been through
And I'll tear you apart

I feel like I'm on the edge, I can't reason with my head

From the start you know you've been on my nerves
Here in hell with you is all that I've earned
You can't fight I'll break you down again and then
Kick you in the face that's your lesson learned

When you try you lose I'll always win in the end
From the ground you look up it's my face again
On the edge with a reason
Your treason is making me sick
No shame no blame, your story's always the same
innocense on the surface
There's no excuse for the abuse that I've been through
And I'll tear you apart

I feel like I'm on the edge, I can't reason with my head
x2
Oh oh x2

Take my hand
I'm falling down

I feel like I'm on the edge, I can't reason with my head
x2
Oh oh x2
Now I am on the edge with a reason
And your treason is making me sick
