Bathe me in memories
Of you To truly feel what is so real
I will give to you everything
Just to continue being you

I feel my life's been so enlightened
Your life is so bright, this moment is just right

I feel your bare breasts against me pressed
This floor of tile becomes an emerald Nile
My seed is planted, your belly enchanted
Tender emotion sweeps me away

I feel my life's been so enlightened
Your life is so bright this moment is just right
Everything you want I will give that to you

I remember the silence never let you go again

Beneath the clouds, Wrapped in shrouds
Memories we hold, Are wrapped in gold

I feel my life's been so enlightened
Your life is so bright this moment is just right
Everything you want I will give that to you
I remember the silence never let you go again
