It's happening, and when it is happening, remember to not speak
When it is happening, remember why it is happening, and how it has come to this
We never wanted to be part of your rule
This is our collective response
I offer you this simple, practical, warning
When it is happening remember to remain face down
Remember, when it is happening, to not make a sound
Remember, when your rule is ending, OURS IS ABOUT TO BEGIN!

We're not alone, and we're few and far between
From anyone who ever thought like you and me
They try so suddenly, to fake us out, to make us out to be something we'll never be
Now who would wanna be like them (echo: "like them")
Now who would wanna be like them

Take me far away
Far from all these enemies
Take me far away
From all the liars that I meet
And I could hardly wait
I'm tired and sick of it all
Please get me out of here

They force it down your throat until you choke
On everything you ever thought you wanted to believe
They say don't break the mold
Don't cross the line
Accept your fate and stand in line
Eat your spoon feed life
Now who would wanna be like them (echo: "like them")
Now who would wanna be like them

Take me far away
Far from all these enemies
Take me far away
From all the liars that I meet
And I could hardly wait
I'm tired and sick of it all

Please get me out of here

OUR WORLD IS SINKING
AND ALL I COULD THINK OF
IS HOW HAS IT COME TO THIS
HOW HAS IT COME TO THIS

Take me far away
Far from all these enemies
Take me far away
From all the liars that I meet
Take me far away
From all the sadness haunting me
And I could hardly wait
I'm tired and sick of it all
Please get me out of here
Please get me out of here
