Are you stil there I can barely hear you
There is too much noise that fills up in my ears Are you growing weak or maybe you were just sleeping You're far too tired to make up your own mind

If you should feel unstable too tired or unable to laugh then maybe you shouldn't wake up just to find yourself still sleepy inside it stopped making sense because the people were clapping

I could not understand what they were clapping for So we stayed inside to hide from the laughter only recently walked out into the temperature

if you should feel unstable too tired or unable to laugh
just to find yourself still sleepy inside
