

Irving Berlin

"Anna Liza's Wedding Day 15 Jan 1913"

Visit "Anna Liza's Wedding Day 15 Jan 1913" on MotoLyrics.com

1st verse:]

Oh, my honey, paint your face with a smile
Wear a smile they can see for a while
Get your Sunday clothes and dress up in style!
Honey, after a while
I'll
Hire a rubber-tired carriage so nice!
Don't you worry, honey, I've got the price
Kindly hurry, honey take my advice
Shake it up and come along

[chorus:]

Ev'rybody's goin' to town
Honey, dear, we better go down
It's Anna 'Liza's wedding day
They're goin' to give the bride away
My honey, come and see the cute little bride
With her lovin' man by her side
Come and hear that parson say
"Bless you, love and honor and obey"
Ev'rybody's happy and gay
It's Anna 'Liza's wedding day

[2nd verse:]

Oh, my honey darlin' don't you forget
There's a wedding cake and say, it's a pet!
Made by Anna 'Liza's mammy, you bet!
Sweetest you ever eat
Yet
Oh, my honey, come and let's make a raid!
On the healthy looking hens that were slayed
We'll devour them with red lemonade
Hurry up and come along

Visit Irving Berlin page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.