

Irving Berlin

"Apple Tree And The Bumble Bee The 7 Mar 1913"

Visit "Apple Tree And The Bumble Bee The 7 Mar 1913" on MotoLyrics.com

1st verse:]

One night in June when the silv'ry moon
Shone down in all its glories
Said a bumble bee, to an apple tree
"Let's tell each other stories
'Twill be like a show, telling what we know
Think of the fun we're missin'"
Said the apple tree, "If it's up to me,
Just open your ears and listen"

[chorus:]

"A he and she were seated under me"
Said the apple tree to the bumble bee
"Soon they drew up closer
The rest I fear I'll have to whisper in your ear
I saw them um, um, um, um, um, um
Beneath the silv'ry moon"
That's the tale the apple tree
Told the bumble bee
One night in June

[2nd verse:]

Said the bumble bee to the apple tree
"Gee, but your tale was dandy
I'll remember you, if you tell it to
My little brother Andy
I would give a pile just to see him smile
You know he's always gloomy"
Said the apple tree "Just leave it to me
Go on bring your brother to me

Visit Irving Berlin page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.