I had a dream early this morning
That would blow the average man's mind
I was all alone in this house full of girls
And every last one of them was fine

What a nice place to be
All those lovely creatures crawling over me
Trying to please, I was all lock up with no key

In this house full of girls
A house full of girls

My lips must have been on fire
Cause they been kissed so many times
Excitement was getting higher
As the girl said (hey sweet stiff have some wine)

My head spinning around
In this groovy harem that I found
The music was strong
And I partied all night long

In this house full of girls
A house full of girls

Music Interlude

As I open my eyes to my surprise
You were smiling down at me
And that was the time that I realized
That you were the reason for this dream

You're my everything
Everything, that I want in me
Your so proud
And you're always teasin' me

You know the house full of girls
Oh House full of girls
House full of girls

Rap up in one (house full of girls)

(house full of girls)

(house full of girls)

(house full of girls)

(house full of girls)

And your mine, girl
