Winter wonderlands were made for romances
I've let go, gonna take these chances
I came home welcomed back by the lights
Left my heart to accompany her nights
Her kissed sealed the deal but her smile was the magnet
Softer lips than I ever could imagine
I came home welcomed back by the lights
Took her heart to accompany my nights

The twelfth day was made for you and me
The time spent being with my baby

Do you know how it feels to find love in the small city called Cedar?
And do you know how I feel every time I hear her voice
or see her?
In my heart and soul I know I need her

The roads were wet and slick but her thoughts were steady
Dashing through the snow in a '92 Chevy
I came home welcomed back by the lights
Left my heart to accompany her nights
We were warming up as the air got colder Held her close, told her I adore her
I came home welcomed back by the lights
Took her heart to accompany my nights

The twelfth day was made for you and me
The time spent being with my baby

Do you know how it feels to find love in the small city
called Cedar?
And do you know how I feel every time I hear her voice
or see her?
In my heart and soul I know I need her

Miss Jones we'll runaway
This part's for the girl, Miss Jones I will admit Since you came into my world
It's changed me quite a bit

So look me in my eyes, and whisper something fragile
I'll see you soon
I'll see you real soon

Do you know how it feels to find love in the small city of cedar?
And do you know how I feel every time I hear her voice
or see her?

Winter wonderlands were made for romances
I've let go, gonna take these chances
I came home welcomed back by the lights
Left my heart to accompany her nights
Her kissed sealed the deal but her smile was the
magnet
Softer lips than I ever could imagine
I came home welcomed back by the lights
Took her heart to accompany my nights
