And I'm up, down; I'm spinning around
I'm high and dry, and kicked to the ground
I'm lost, and I'll never be found

My lips were much too shy
The lines about you, they never rhymed
And you said I never get things right

I never said I was the best thing for you

And baby, where'd you go?
I need you here tonight

Singing myself to sleep
And you're still my favorite melody
It's been three weeks
How long can this go on?
Singing myself to sleep
You're haunting every memory

Get out; goodbye. Get out of my life. Goodnight

And you're hot, cold
You're better in my bones
You run while I lose control
I miss you
Forever you'll stay gold
And girl you know I'm not getting by
I've lost it, you're in my mind
And everyday's the darkest of my life

I never said I was the best thing for you

And baby, where'd you go?
I need you here tonight

Singing myself to sleep
And you're still my favorite melody
It's been three weeks
How long can this go on?
Singing myself to sleep

You're haunting every memory

Get out; goodbye. Get out of my life

'Cause I'm drowning when I close my eyes
And I'm falling; I can't breathe tonight
End of story, I fade to black inside

I never said I was the best thing for you

'Cause I'm drowning when I close my eyes
And I'm falling; I can't breathe tonight
End of story, I fade to black inside

Singing myself to sleep
And you're still my favorite melody
It's been three weeks
How long can this go on
Singing myself to sleep
You're haunting every memory

Get out; goodbye. Get out of my life

'Cause I'm drowning when I close my eyes
And I'm falling; I can't breathe tonight
End of story, I fade to black inside
