Right from the start I was stabbed in the heart Didn't know I wasn't breathing, didn't know I had been bleeding
Opened my door, thought I was alone
But someone was hiding in the darkroom in my home

Honey you will remember some of it
But if you solve it you will remember all of it

Creepier in my home crawled in through the window
I grabbed the kitchen knife couldn't stick it in no
Creepier had his own shining in the moonlight
My home was very cold and something didn't feel right

Right from the start I was stabbed in the heart
Didn't know I wasn't breathing, didn't know I had been
bleeding
Opened my door, thought I was alone
But someone was hiding in the darkroom in my home

Right from the start I was stabbed in the heart
Didn't know I wasn't breathing, didn't know I had been bleeding
Opened my door, thought I was alone
But someone was hiding in the darkroom in my home

Right from the start I was stabbed in the heart
Didn't know I wasn't breathing, didn't know I had been bleeding
Opened my door, thought I was alone
But someone was hiding in the darkroom in my home
