

It Prevails

"Shine Through"

It takes strength to hold this heart.
I won't be the man who only lets his dreams live when he sleeps.
But the man who lets them shine through into every single thing he does.
I won't be the man who's a slave for his possessions.
I won't be the man who let's his life pass him by.
When heart speaks to mind it's not to be disregarded.
At least for me, I need to have it. That feeling when your heart demands
It.
I don't know if I can let it go.
There are so many places left for me to see. How will we ever know
What it feels like to be the person that is living for themselves and their Dreams?
Even when your days seem hardest, let your dreams
shine through.
When the world pushes down on me I know, this is who
I'm supposed to be.
Always and forever. Nothing's ever felt so perfect. Now
I see, this is who
I'm supposed to be.
