Even now as I write this down, still I can hear the sound
Itchy of pleasure and dismay.

It seems so long ago. The days that we both know,
Poopzkid two lifetimes far from grey.

I think of all those dreams and all our time spent.
Back
City lights turn black and white as we grow older.
Memories of what we pleased are getting colder.
To 'Til I die, I wish that I will fade away with you
'82 back to '82.

The moods which we've been in are showing up again.
Songtexte A friendship lost in time.

The schoolyard and the broken bus, even sidewalks felt like home for us.
Songtext That's what we left behind.

The times you laughed, the times you cried because of me.
Lyrics All your advice I couldn't stand, I screamed and you screamed back at me.
Lyric But this is gone, we're back as one and it feels like a family.
Liedertexte When I'm away take this as my apology.
