English Lyrics:

I hope this tears will stop running someday
Someday after this darkness clear up
I hope the warm sunshine dries these tears
When I feel that I'm getting tired of looking me exhausted
I want to give all my dreams I've kept hard Every time I feel that I'm lacking in many things more than I have
I lost strength in my legs and drop down
I hope this tears will stop running someday
Someday after this darkness clear up
I hope the warm sunshine dries these tears
Everyday I hold out comforting myself I'll be alright
But it makes me afraid little by little
I tell myself to believe in myself, but I don't Now I don't know how longer I can hold out
But wait it'll come
Although the night is long, the sun comes up
Someday my painful heart will get well
I hope it helps me now
I hope the God will help me
I don't have enough confidence more and more to overcome myself
I hope this tears will stop running someday
Someday after this darkness clear up
I hope the warm sunshine dries these tears
But wait it'll come
Although the night is long, the sun comes up
Someday my painful heart will get well
Someday!
Someday!
