I was born to love her
Worship and adore her
It's plain to see you were made for me
I need you
You know I need you
Here with me

The sun is shining through my window
We're making music
Making music

Born in California
Mother nature's daughter
You played the game
You took my name
I love you
You know I love you
Darling please

They call me crazy
Call me pretty
I know you feel it
Know you feel it

And if the sky should fall
And the morning birds not call
You must know
How I love you so

I can see the future

One way or another
I raised my hands
You made the plans
Just like a fortune teller
Oh my lord

The more I get to know you baby
The more I see exactly what's wrong with me
Yeah

And if the sky should fall

And the morning birds not call
You must know
How I love you so

Yeah though I'd like to take her
Guess I'm off to meet my maker
Don't let go
How I'll miss you ohhh

Ooh Ooh Ooh....

Yeah what she would not give
To love the life you live
Don't let go
How I love you so
