"Pray, boy, pray"; she whispered in my ear with a poison needle aimed right at my fears As the words of the Litany relieved me I realized it was I who had deceived me No Fable, no fiction ever made it easy
I will not fear. Fear is the mind killer
I will allow it to pass over me.
When its gone, only I will remain.
And when she asked me to tell her of my dreams she did so only to deceive
I felt your Gom Jabar
but from mine there's no reprove I learned the way of the knife and the cutting will be a relief
I will not fear. Fear is the mind killer
I will allow it to pass over me.
When its gone, only I will remain.
