how am i to tell the love of my life that im in love with
my best friend

im trying hard to find the words but none seem to make sense

so im a just breathe and let it out breathe and let it out breathe let it out and now ill just breathe let it out breathe and let it out breathe and let it out oh baby

im really glad i had you but i really think we need to talk by the way the way that you looked in my eyes i could tell you knew something was wrong and as i watched as you tried to play tough with your tears filling up in your eyes put your hands around my waist and hug me tight when you said baby tell me what is on our mind my love you knew me from the get go ive always tried to keep it re-e-eal this situation got me so lost for word but im a trie to tell you how i fe-e-el

my best friend

i play it over and over up in my head and i know how its gonna end

my best friend

make sense

and now ill just breathe and let it out breathe and let it out breathe and let it out breathe and let it out breathe and let it out breathe and let it out i will just breathe and let it out breathe
