Sitting outside in the countryside looking at the skies
Waiting for the night to fall to open up my eyes Gazing at the long lost stars and counting up their lies
Waiting for the right one to blaze across the distant skies

A shooting star across the sky
I want your soul to come alive
A shooting star across the sky
A shooting star to make my heart thrive

Waiting for hours just for one thing
To make the heavenly skies sing
A wish to make my dreams come true
Once I see the shooting star
I know that level 1 is through
Now time for level 2

A shooting star across the sky
I want your soul to come alive
A shooting star across the sky
A shooting star to make my heart thrive

Then I see a shooting star
Burning across the lonely sky

Time to make my wish
Hope that one day it will come true
So I can find you
Without a clue I should find you
In the blink of an eye
Love is not a lie
Lying in the country side
Counting up the stars
A shooting star as bright as mars
On a lonely starry night
A shooting star makes it flight

A shooting star across the sky
I want your soul to come alive

A shooting star across the sky
A shooting star to make my heart thrive

A shooting star across the sky
I want your soul to come alive
A shooting star across the sky
A shooting star to make my heart thrive

Time to make my wish
Hoping one day it come true
And I will find you
Hoping there is a part 2
Now that part 1 is through
