You know when
I was a little kid
All I ever wanted to
It's make something big outta my life
And I been forgotten like the rest
So check it!

There's a light at the end of the tunnel
Humble beginnings in a fight to the finish
Hangin' on with a grimace
Giveth the look of God
When told faith is fraud
Cause you gave it all you had
So why won't they applaud?
Wrong again!
Bitter sweet
Hard to stomach if you love it
Not a friend
But a puppet with strings attached
Dance to the beat
Of a dying heart
Change your pace
Cause if I keep on moving
I might find a way

I'm alive
I'll give you all my time
I'll put it all on the line, hey
Find a way to the light

Why's there gotta be a test on every breath I'm holding
to make it?
I'll find a way for you
There's a long road but no one will take it
I'll find a way
Why's there gotta be a test on every breath I'm holding
to make it?
I'll find a way for you
There's a long road, There's a long road
Why won't you take it?

Can you feel the nails digging deep inside of your skin?

Prove yourself until your dead the end but you didn't begin
And if someone doesn't reach out soon you might lose it
Cause you humbled yourself just to be proved you can't do it
Don't do it!
Don't give it up to get it back * that!
Put it to your chest and let your heart attack

Come back!
I ain't done trying, you're killing me softly with your words and I love dying

I'm alive
I'll give you all my time
I'll put it all on the line, hey
Find a way to the light

Why's there gotta be a test on every breath I'm holding
to make it?
I'll find a way for you
There's a long road but no one will take it
I'll find a way
Why's there gotta be a test on every breath I'm holding
to make it?
I'll find a way for you
There's a long road, There's a long road
Why won't you take it?

I'm alive
I'll give you all my time
I'll put it all on the line, hey
Find a way to the light

Why's there gotta be a test on every breath I'm holding
to make it?
I'll find a way for you
There's a long road but no one will take it
Why won't you take it?
Why's there gotta be a test on every breath I'm holding
to make it?
I'll find a way for you
There's a long road but no one will take it
Why won't you take it?
Why's there gotta be a test on every breath I'm holding
to make it?
I'll find a way for you
There's a long road, There's a long road

Why won't you take it?

I'm alive

I'll give you all my time

I'll put it all on the line, hey

Find a way to the light

You know

When a was a little kid

All I ever wanted to do

It's make something big outta my life

And I been forgotten like the rest
