She found a way to control her pain but no one will understand so she hides her arms from viewing eyes to avoid all the hurtful remarks

The scars left behind will remind her
of the pain she went through all the pain built up inside it only relieves the pain
for a few simple seconds so she'll do it again and again but the pain wont fade

they will never know what she has done never know the pain she felt unless they gaze upon the marks the excuses she will try to make just to keep her secret safe

all the pain built up inside
so she'll do it again
