I told you we'd be together soon but soon has never come you're probably sick and tired of me you can not stand the way my feelings always change

It's like everytime we say it's over
I want to lie down and cry
I don't know why I let you go it's like everytime we part I feel the breaking of my heart visions of you and me still flash through my head why did I let you go

I know I've hurt you please forgive me

I am willing to make it up to you some way some how

I think I'm in love this was no intention of mine isn't it crazy how these feelings just happen

It's like everytime we say it's over
I want to lie down and cry
It's like everytime we part
I feel the breaking of my heart
flash through my head
why did i let you go
